The amphitheater/ice arena project that will be presented at council tonight couldn't be more exciting for Delaware City! Not only will it provide much needed tax income, but it will make Delaware a place with new energy and attraction. Since I represent developers that want to do projects in Delaware, it will give them a new level of excitement for our community. The developers for this project are absolutely first class and won't stop until this project is remarkable. The families in Delaware will have new places to attend right here instead of having to go to Columbus for their entertainment. I hope that council can recognize the layers of benefit that this project will provide. With this type of momentum, there could be several new opportunities that await us in the future that could bring new young families and leaders to Delaware.

Some may say that noise will be an issue, but being next to an airport where jets fly in, and being close to a rock quarry with regular blasting. noise should not be a valid complaint.

Growing up in Delaware and traveling on Rt 42 west, there have been only a few projects that have changed this corridor. Now with this opportunity, the area will start to transform into something really special for Delaware. It will bring new jobs that will keep our community members not traveling outside of the county to work, but keep them right here in Delaware. I am a very strong supporter of this project and hope that council will approve it. Our community needs to bring new projects like this to make Delaware the best place in central Ohio to live.
