Members of Council,

I have repeatedly contacted Council seeking assistance with the process for reviewing my police misconduct complaints. I have asked who outside the Police Department can address concerns about the completeness and impartiality of an investigation conducted by the department itself. Those questions remain unanswered.

The City has assigned an internal investigator and declined my request for an outside investigation. I recognize that an investigation takes time. My concern here is the absence of a substantive response about oversight, accountability, and the process available to a resident.

I was informed that Council members had been advised by the City Attorney not to respond to my correspondence. When I asked Mr. Moser if that was accurate information, he told me it was not. When I requested clarification, he subsequently invoked attorney-client privilege and stated that he considered the matter closed. That exchange has left me without a clear explanation of whether a restriction exists or where I should direct my procedural concerns.

I am asking for an identifiable, accountable process.

Specifically, please provide a written response identifying:

- Council's role in overseeing the City's handling of police misconduct complaints.
- Who outside the Police Department reviews concerns about an internal investigation's completeness, impartiality, or handling.
- Whether Council members can acknowledge my correspondence, explain the applicable procedures, and refer my concerns to the responsible official.
- How I can request review if I believe the complaint process has not adequately addressed the evidence submitted.

Residents should be able to raise concerns about City services and receive a clear explanation of the available process. Pending proceedings should not leave me unable to identify who handles an administrative concern or how to request review.

Please identify the person responsible for answering these questions and when I can expect a substantive response.
